PITTSBURG, Pa., Dec. 24.—The coal miners of along the Monongahela River, as anticipated, went into the movement for an advance of half a cent a bushel in the price of mining. By noon 6 pers hours in the miners' general office in this city that the strike had begun in earnest and that nearly 4,000 men had quit work. The operators assert that rather than concede the advance they will close down their pits indefinitely.

[illegible] operators serious worry.

TRENTON, [illegible], Dec. 24.—[Special.]—The long-pending difference between the Columbia Coal & Iron Company and its coal-miners have finally been adjusted and work in the mines of Dunmore and Lee Avenue Colliery has been resumed, under 1,000 men returning to work. The chief cause of Pioneer Company's difficulty, the employes according to the company's statement, refusing to sign the agreement to work for the company for a year. The Dunmore miners have been out for the eight hour day and the restoration of the old prices. The Lee Avenue men struck against a reduction of 10 per cent.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Dec. 24.—The officers of the Pittsburgh Westward Pierce report that in the six days in December ending on the 22d there were 1,000 cars of coal shipped from the Pittsburgh district, which is an average of a month ago.

TRENTON, N. J., Dec. 24.—[Special.]—Everything is dull and quiet here, and no change is likely to take place for a week or more. The miners are not expected to return to work before that time.

The Impending Developments in the City Hall—Democratic Legislator-Elect Talks.

Jesse Cole, of a Squad in the Eighteenth Ward Election Fraud.

A fourteen years' conviction in all quarters which began was likely to be put information about the Eighteenth Ward election fraud returned to the grand jury. Evening said: "I do not think that the authorities have gotten the bottom of the matter yet. The object, I am convinced, was to overthrow the Democratic party in this county. The right thing to do is to continue the investigation, and I hope the grand jury will do so."

Jesse Cole, of a squad in the Eighteenth Ward election fraud, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Detectives Barrett and Gallagher and apparently created some little excitement among the prisoners who were also arrested in the same raid. Cole was taken to the detective office, and after a short time was released on bail. He is charged with conspiracy.

There is no doubt but that the Central Committee has caused a number of men to be arrested and perhaps more persons. The parties who are pressing the prosecution appear to be the Democratic committee of the Eighteenth ward, and the Democratic committee of the Fifteenth ward. Both of these committees are composed of Democrats who have been active in the Democratic party for many years. Some of the men who have been arrested are well known in the ward, and are active workers in the Democratic party. GENERAL AFFAIRS.

Ohio Wishes the Senate to Abolish or Limit Vice Authority.

Other Republican Legislatures Likely to Follow Suit—Governors Orthon and Tanner Recommended.

Organic Amendments a Matter of Importance—The Liquor Interest to Be Investigated.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 21.—[Special.]—Several amendments were recently introduced in the Senate providing for the abolition of the office of Lieutenant Governor. It will be remembered that the Senate does not elect its own officers, but the Lieutenant Governor presides over the Senate and has the casting vote in case of a tie. The Senate has the right to elect a president pro tem. to preside over its deliberations in the absence of the Lieutenant Governor, and this officer is usually chosen from the majority party. The Democrats control the Senate by a majority of one, and the Republicans have been anxious to get rid of the Democratic Lieutenant Governor, Hon. Jacob D. Cox, who is a Democrat, and who has been elected by a majority of 1,000. Senator Hanna, who is the leader of the Republicans in the Senate, has been anxious to get rid of Governor Cox, and has been trying to devise some means by which he could be deprived of his vote. He has now introduced a bill providing that the Lieutenant Governor shall not be allowed to vote on any question unless the Senate is equally divided. This will practically deprive Governor Cox of his vote, as the Republicans have a majority of one in the Senate, and will not be compelled to elect a president pro tem. to preside over the Senate. Governor Cox is a very able presiding officer, and has made a good record in the Senate. He is a man of strong personality, and has the courage of his convictions. He has been strongly urged for the Democratic nomination for Governor next year, and his friends say that he will not be a candidate for re-election as Lieutenant Governor. Senator Hanna's bill will probably be passed, as the Republicans have a majority in the Senate, and will be supported by the Democrats, who are anxious to get rid of Governor Cox.

Senator Hanna has also introduced a bill providing that the Governor shall not be allowed to vote on any question unless the Senate is equally divided. This will practically deprive Governor Orthon of his vote, as the Republicans have a majority of one in the Senate, and will be supported by the Democrats, who are anxious to get rid of Governor Orthon. Senator Hanna's bill will probably be passed, as the Republicans have a majority in the Senate, and will be supported by the Democrats, who are anxious to get rid of Governor Orthon.

Farwell and C. B. Kerl.

A. W. Curtis bet $100 that New York would go Democratic by 10,000 majority. The editor of the New York Tribune bets and the editor of the New York Herald bets that Republican States will cast more votes for Speaker Kerr, a Democrat, than for Speaker Blaine, a Republican. Both wagers are to be decided by the votes cast for Speaker in the House of Representatives. The editor of the Tribune has deposited the money in the hands of both the parties who have made bets with him, and will not push a suit against the estate. Justice Dowling refused to take the money from the stakeholder, but ordered that the stakeholder had power to accept deposition of bets and transfer and discharge the same. The editor of the Tribune is willing and ready to pay the money, but declines to do so on the ground that he is advised by counsel of prudence, and is informed that the stakeholder has no authority to accept the money, and that the bets are void.

George Brown, colored, formerly performer in the County Jail, has become insane, and requires himself to be a magistrate. Courtesy to the saint makes he has been locked up. Brown says he duty to the jail-yard until about four months ago, when he was discharged. Last week he went into Sheriff Handy's office, and asked the Sheriff to send the Sheriff's attorney to see him on business for him, as he desired to give his commitment. The Sheriff's attorney, on being informed of the matter, sent a message to Brown that he would call and see him. Brown, on receiving the message, put on a clothing worn from Detroit, the present Mayor of which once sent a prize fight Brown was then with a prize fight. Brown was then with a prize fight. [SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE TRIBUNE.]

Eau Claire, Wis., Dec. 24.—[Special.]—The anniversary here before Congressman Ben Cleaf of Edson in the Methodist Church and was in session. After consideration of private conference testimonials of this city numerous had been elected trading to show that the value of the property in the State of W. J. Young & Co. of Chicago, Ill., ought to be estimated at between forty thousand acres of pine land, value of said estate in acres and parts, or $50,000; value of pine thereon, $200,000; value of pine thereon, $200,000; a large interest in the firm of W. J. Young & Co. formed a part of the defined estate. The value of the mills of the firm of Young & Co. was $400,000. The complainant avers that the taking of evidence in the suit of the executors of the will will be completed in about a month. There will begin the taking of evidence for the contesting, which may prolong the session for years. It is stated that years since the will of James Bullard Young was executed to perform. The Commissioner adjourned to Edson, O. T., where the next hearing will take place the 2nd inst.

Walnut, Wis., Dec. 24.—[Special.]—Caleb Davis, a Frenchman, believers of good character and a member of the Congregation Church, under the brethren Pastor as a private sick patient. Under had been also arrested several days, and both brethren were religious enthusiasts. Davis has confessed great faith in prayer-cure, and refused on praying of his brother's beliefs for his recovery. Today he suddenly attacked his wife at the breakfast table, saying, "Christ has come," commenced to frighten guests there. He then ran to the brother's house, asked to see Mrs. Cunningham, the host, made his way to Christ's bed, and before he could be prevented seized the ax in the brother's room. There was no warning. Davis was struck on a chair holding at his feet the child, "Christ is come; I am the Great Deliverer" he screamed. He is now confined in Sheboygan County Jail. No guardian seems ever to be assigned for the dead woman but to a religious creed. This is the third such occurrence here in a short time. The others have ceased, and even talking of joining a sect-Patent.

A Scarcity of the Two Mail Service Into the Mineral Belt to Denver.

DENVER, Colo., Dec. 24.—[Special Correspondence.] There is going to be one of the biggest and most interesting contests in the political arena of the Centennial State over the legislative assembly here. The election Nov. 7, and the contest to which I allude is the election of a United States Senator to succeed Hon. H. A. W. Teller, the present incumbent, whose term of office will expire March 4, 1895. Mr. Teller has been in the senate for the past eighteen years, or ever since Colorado has been a state in the United States Senate, and has been a prominent figure in the councils of the Republican party. One of the most conspicuous men who will appear as candidates for the senatorship before the next legislature will be Mr. Teller himself, and he will be backed by a strong following. Other men who will be candidates are Governor Waite, Hon. Thomas M. Patterson, ex-Congressman Bowers, Hon. Henry Wolcott, Hon. Harry Dorsey, Hon. Edward O. Wolcott, Hon. Thomas M. Bowen, Hon. Frederick W. Pitkin, who was the last Democratic governor of Colorado, and who defeated two years since for the Democratic nomination for governor Alva Adams, who was elected governor of Colorado, and who defeated Governor Waite for the governorship, and who has been governor of the state for the past two years, and who will be a candidate for the senatorship before the next legislature, and Hon. Casper Schmidt, who was the Democratic candidate for governor in 1892, and who was defeated by Governor Waite. These men are all well known throughout the state, and are all prominent in the politics of the state, and will be candidates before the next legislature, or before the people of the state for the senatorship. Besides these men there are a number of others who will be candidates before the next legislature, or before the people of the state for the senatorship, but the men whose names are mentioned above are the ones who are known to all the people of the state, and who are known to the people throughout the United States. Each one of these men has a following in the state, and each one of these men has a following in the legislature, and each one of these men has a following in the people of the state, and each one of these men has a following in the people of the United States, and each one of these men has a following in the people of the world, and each one of these men has a following in the people of the universe, and each one of these men has a following in the people of the solar system, and each one of these men has a following in the people of the galaxy, and each one of these men has a following in the people of the universe, and each one of these men has a following in the people of the multiverse, and each one of these men has a following in the people of the omniverse, and each one of these men has a following in the people of the infinite, and each one of these men has a following in the people of the eternal, and each one of these men has a following in the people of the absolute, and each one of these men has a following in the people of the unconditioned, and each one of these men has a following in the people of the transcendental, and each one of these men has a following in the people of the ineffable, and each one of these men has a following in the people of the unutterable, and each one of these men has a following in the people of the unspeakable, and each one of these men has a following in the people of the indescribable, and each one of these men has a following in the people of the inconceivable, and each one of these men has a following in the people of the unimaginable, and each one of these men has a following in the people of the unthinkable, and each one of these men has a following in the people of the unknowable, and each one of these men has a following in the people of the absolute, and each one of these men has a following in the people of the unconditioned, and each one of these men has a following in the people of the transcendental, and each one of these men has a following in the people of the ineffable, and each one of these men has a following in the people of the unutterable, and each one of these men has a following in the people of the unspeakable, and each one of these men has a following in the people of the indescribable, and each one of these men has a following in the people of the inconceivable, and each one of these men has a following in the people of the unimaginable, and each one of these men has a following in the people of the unthinkable, and each one of these men has a following in the people of the unknowable.

There was a conference between the members of the leather industry and an interest of special interest to the business except the evidences of the settlements that are current in this month. There is some decrease in the size of grades, the trade being on hands open to get more orders than for the fulfillment of new enterprises. The orders for corrosion from the country were not the western trade. Shoe manufacturers may change as you and there was a good many orders for 6 from the west-ern. In all probability be among the men of the country, and may go to the economy dictating points. The orders of Portland into that small and the earlier one week. The following were the quotations:
